OWEN WISTER DIES SUDDENLY

Wife Was Rushing West in Special Train to Bedside.

By United Press Wire.

Eric, Pa., Oct. 12.—Owen Wister, the novelist, died in Wyoming today while his wife was rushing west in a special train to his bedside. Although the train averaged a mile a minute, death was the speedier and won the race. The Wister's home is in Philadelphia. Mrs. Wister was attending the State Federation of Women's Clubs in Erie when she received news of her husband's sudden illness.

A new source of rubber supply has been announced to the French Academy of Science in a gum found in abundance in the Malay Peninsula and archipelago. It is easily gathered and contains from 10 to 20 per cent of pure gum.

LULU GLASER SAYS HUBBY ABUSED HER

Mr. & Mrs. Ralph Herz.

The news that Lulu Glaser had said her husband, Ralph Herz, the character comedian, for divorce, occasioned little surprise in the theatrical world. When the musical comedy star married Herz in 1907 it was generally regarded as a love match, a belief apparently corroborated by the above picture. They had trouble later, and in her petition Mrs. Herz charges her husband with cruelty and abusive treatment.

Said bonds dated November 1st, 1911, and to come due and payable as follows, and to be for the following amounts:

Bond No. 1, $680.00, due March 1st, 1912.

Bond No. 2, $680.00, due Sept. 1st, 1912.

Bond No. 3, $680.00, due March 1st, 1913.

Bond No. 4, $720.00, due Sept. 1st, 1913.

Bond No. 5, $720.00, due March 1st, 1914.

Bond No. 6, $750.00, due Sept. 1st, 1914.

Bond No. 7, $750.00, due March 1st, 1915.

Bond No. 8, $790.00, due Sept. 1st, 1915.

Bond No. 9, $790.00, due March 1st, 1916.

Bond No. 10, $820.00, due Sept. 1st, 1916.

Bond No. 11, $820.00, due March 1st, 1917.

Bond No. 12, $200.00, due Sept. 1st, 1917.

With interest from November 1st, 1911, at the rate of five per cent per annum payable semi-annually, on the first day of March and September of each year. Proper interest coupons are to be attached to each bond for the interest as it matures.

Principal and interest payable at the office of the treasurer of Marion county, Ohio. Said bonds are issued for the purpose of constructing the Gracely free turnpike road as ordered by the board of commissioners of Marion county, Ohio, under authority of the general laws of the state of Ohio, particularly section 7283 General Code of Ohio and pursuant to a resolution adopted by said road commissioners on the 13th day of October, 1911.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check of one hundred dollars on some bank in Marion county, Ohio, said check to be made payable to the treasurer of Marion county, Ohio. All checks of unsuccessful bidders shall be returned to them at once after the proposals have been opened and an award made to the successful bidder or bidders. The bidder or bidders refuse or neglect to pay for the bonds sold, then the deposit shall be forfeited to the said board of commissioners and the successful bidder or bidders, and shall become the property of said board and considered compensation for loss and expenses attending the sale of the bonds and as liquidated damages for republishing the sale. No bid will be received unless accompanied by a certified check as heretofore stated. No bid will be received after the time specified in the advertisement. The bonds are to be delivered to the purchaser November 10th, 1911, and to be paid for on that day at the treasurer's office of Marion county, Ohio.

Proposals are to be sealed and endorsed "Bids for Bonds" and addressed to the aforesaid Free Turnpike Commissioners, Marion, Ohio, in care of John H. Clark, attorney. By order of the road commissioners of the Gracely Free Turnpike Road.

H. W. Gracely,

John H. Clark, Commissioners.

CANE CUT FROM GLACIAL TREE

Taft Has Interesting Souvenir of Western Trip.

OVER 250,000 YEARS OLD

Highest Spillway Dam in World to be Near Spokane.

Ostrich Farm Will be Established Near There Also.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 12.—President Taft has among the souvenirs of his western trip a cane from a stump, which scientists declare was a tree before the glacial period. The wood was found in the valley of the south fork of the Old Man river in the southern part of the province of Alberta by Professor W. S. Foster, a geologist and explorer, living in Spokane. The cane, which is valued at $5,000, was presented by Edwin T. Coman, president of the chamber of commerce, on behalf of the people of Spokane.

"The stump, which stood in a peat bed, was found beneath 60 feet of glacial wash," said Professor Foster, giving a history of the discovery. "and preserved to the present day by one of the survivors of the glacial period. The peat, from which the stump was taken, is on a sandstone formation and is about three feet in thickness. Seaweeds and flag-stocks found nearby also were well preserved."

"This peat bed was uncovered by the wearing away of the glacial wash by floods and the flow of the Old Man river. There is not the least question in my mind that the tree grew before the glacial period, more than 250,000 years ago, but so far I have not been able to ascertain the kind of wood it is."

"The discovery was made not long ago in the Frank district, which is 200 miles north of Spokane and fully 400 miles east of the Pacific ocean. The presence of well-preserved seaweed and flag-stocks in abundance, buried under 60 feet of glacial deposit, supports the theory of the antiquity of the stump. I have much other evidence of scientific character to bear out all of my assertions."

"More than that, I am prepared to satisfy any one posted on such things by showing them the stump from which the wood was cut, also the formation in which the discovery was made."

Construction work soon will begin on what is declared to be the highest spillway dam in the world at Lung Lake, 30 miles north of Spokane, where the Washington Water Power company will develop 90,000 electrical horse power with four turbines, each of 22,500 horse-power, the largest yet constructed anywhere. The dam will be 225 feet in length, 120 feet at the highest point and 145 feet in width at the base, built up of cyclopean masonry. The spillway is to be surmounted with three roller dams, each 19 feet in diameter and 55 feet in length. In addition, there will be two gates, each 25 feet in length and 12 feet in diameter. The tunnel, through which the flow of the Spokane river will be diverted, is 225 feet in length and opens into a cut of 250 feet. It is 30 feet in width at the highest point and carries 8,000 cubic feet of water. The entrance of the tunnel is of concrete and steel girders. It is expected to complete the plant in 1912. The total cost of work and equipment is placed at $4,000,000.

Frank W. Hellman of San Diego, Cal., who was an exhibitor at the Spokane Interstate fair the week of October 2, is planning to establish a large ostrich farm near Spokane next year, having satisfied himself, following an extensive investigation, that the big birds can be raised as successfully and with as much profit in the inland empire as in California. It has been demonstrated that ostriches thrive in cooler climates, he said, also that the plumage is of a better quality and grows longer and wider than in the tropical climates. There is every indication, he added, that the industry will become a large and profitable one in the Pacific Northwest. Ostrich farms have been established in western Oregon and Washington and the birds are doing well. Mr. Hellman emphasized the importance of a climate, in which the relative humidity is low, for successful ostrich farming, saying also that the Columbia river basin presents this factor in the capacity of the atmosphere to absorb the moisture during hot weather.
